I See Satan Fall like lightning is first and foremost a anthropological study of biblical texts and Christian traditions. His goal is to show the unique role of the Gospel texts in exposing the parasite of satanic power on human order from the foundation of the first human society, through the persecution of the prophets, to finally the crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

Question: "What did Jesus mean when He said, 'I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven'?" Answer: In Luke 10:18 Jesus says, 'I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven.' The context of these words is the return of the 70 (or 72) disciples that Jesus had sent out to evangelize and prepare His way to Jerusalem (see verse 1). When the 70 return and give their report, they are joyful and a little surprised that "even

And He said to them, "I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven." Luke 10:18. Notice He did not say that He was involved. Keep in mind that the battle is not between God and Satan but rather between submission and rebellion. Those who have submitted themselves to God (angels and redeemed men) fight a tremendous battle against those who have rebelled (fallen angels and unredeemed men).
